

Education Sessions on Data Centers

Looking for information on data centers? Want to learn from experts, hear fellow community members' thoughts, and get the chance to ask your own questions?

About the Event

On July 14, 2026 the Green County Board passed a moratorium on data centers. In collaboration with Green County, UW-Madison Division of Extension Green County will host two educational sessions for Green County residents on Wednesday, October 7, 2026. The educational sessions will include both an informational presentation as well as time for questions. Both sessions will feature the same format and educational information.

Topics Covered

Topics covered in the presentation will include:

- Overview of what data centers are
- Overall infrastructure for data centers
- Common topics regarding data centers
- What local government entities can do regarding data center regulations

Attendees can also write down their questions and perspectives to be shared with Green County Board members.
